

HEPATITIS 2006 - Starts on Saturday February 25th, 2006 in Dakar, Senegal

Dear Colleagues --

It's my pleasure to announce the dates and details of Hepatitis 2006, in this first call for participants and presenters of both oral and poster contributions for what will be a rather non-traditional, uniquely styled, and small but very special and cost-effective international research meeting to be held in West Africa next spring:

HEPATITIS 2006 - Starts on Saturday February 25th, 2006 in Dakar, Senegal Meeting Details -

<http://mangosee.com/mangosteen/hepatitis2006/hepatitis2006.htm>

A True Forum for Discussion in 3 Parts, in 2 Venues, spanning 2 Neighbouring Nations and 2 very different Faces of Modern Africa

Part 1 - Saturday, February 25th to Monday February 27th, 2006 in amongst the concrete and activity of the big city - in the centre of Dakar, Senegal's capital.

Part 2 - Tuesday, February 28th and Wednesday, March 1st, 2006 also in Dakar's city centre.

Part 3 - Thursday, March 2nd to Sunday, March 5th, 2006 in amongst the trees and tranquility of the countryside - in Tendaba, in the heartland of The Gambia

Apologies if this meeting does not fall within the scope of your research interests -- please be sure to let me know if you would rather not receive further announcements on this or future meetings. Similarly, please let it be known if you would definitely like your email address to be included in future updates or if you would like to sign up to participate at this time.

Other upcoming meetings that may also be of interest to you or your colleagues --
